About Wilton Park

Wilton Park is a non-profitmaking Executive Agency of the Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office (FCDO). As a part of the FCDO, we support British foreign policy, security, trade and international development priorities and are core to the UK's public diplomacy work. The networks we build and nurture create a lasting sense of connection to both Wilton Park and the UK.

Wilton Park brings fresh thinking to the development of international policy, advancing practical solutions to critical global issues. It is a dynamic, high-profile centre for international dialogue with a track record of facilitating discussions that solve international problems.

We have been building and maintaining trusted global networks for over 75 years, connecting Governments, the private sector, civil society, foundations, universities and think tanks in dialogue. We mix experience with new voices: today's policy leaders, decision-makers and influencers connect with those of tomorrow. Together we develop new perspectives and deliver innovation in international policy. Our networks endure, with the conversation, collaboration and impact continuing long after the event ends.

We run around 70 policy events a year, facilitating dialogue wherever it is needed. We specialise in face-to-face events in our secluded 16th-century home in the English countryside, and internationally, but also run virtual and hybrid events. Whatever the format, we work with event partners and sponsors to help define objectives and design outcome-driven solutions.
